Recent Shipping Board Ruling Bone of Contention.

Delegates representing chambers of commerce, civic organizations and traffic associations from Middle and trame associations from Middle Western and Southern States will appear before the Senate Commerce Committee tomorrow to enter a plea that there be no interference with trade routes, recently established by the Shipping Board, from South Atlantic and Gulf ports to Latin-America and elsewhere.

J. W. Thomas, of Chicago, president of the Great Lakes Trust Company and chairman of the Midwest-Gulf-South Atlantic Foreign Trade Guif-South Atlantic Foreign Trade and Transportation Committee, which is representative of business interests in twenty-four States, was among the first delegates to arrive here. More than 190 are expected. A conference of the business men, beginning here today, will be devoted to planning for the merchant marine and to mapping out a campaign to retain the lower freight rates just granted from the interior to Southern ports by the railroad administration.

Before the Senate committee, the delegations will insist that legistation for the disposition of government-owned ships "should embody provisions for the maintenance of all trade routes now in operation, and such trade routes as may, owing to conditions, be established in the future, so that the shippers of the United States may be given free access to all ports on equal terms." Delegates to the Midwest-Gulf-South Atlantic conference will include J. B. Morrow, of the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce, vice president of the committee; F. L. Renshaw, Cin-cinneti Traffic Club; Barton Meyers, chairman of the port commission, and W. A. Cox, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, Norfolk; E. L. McColgin and H. T. Building in New York, Near Dry Agents' Office, Equipped With Bar.

USE ELEVATOR

New York, Jan. 25.—A fully equipped saloon with a bartender dispensing seventy-five proof whiskey has been discovered by prohibition agents in an elevator in a building directly across from the offices of Federal agencies and a few doors away from the office of the Department of Justice.

This ingenious drinking place, in which bar, bartender and customer could disappear through the celling in case of surprise, was installed in Ranken's cafe, 29 Park Row, one of the busiest streets in New York.

The elevator was reached through New York. The elevator was reached through a door opening off a room back of the barroom. In the elevator revenue agents found a small table covered with a towel. In the wall of the car was nailed a box containing six sherry glasses, a quart bottle of imitation whisky, a small pitcher of water and a bowl of water for rinsing glasses.

The elevator could be started easily and the occupants put off at any of the three floors above the street.

The raiders found a bartender who told them there was another bottle of whisky on the fourth floor. They rode up in the lift and found seven gallons of the concoction in demijohns and a basketful of empties. The government men said the whisky was alcohol diluted with water down to seventy-five proof and colored.

Two men were arrested, Sigmund Kenreuth, as proprietor of the cafe

Two men were arrested, Sigmund Kenreuth, as proprietor of the cafe and Fred H. Brune as bartender. Kenreuth is charged with having liquor in a place other than his home and the other of having transported it from Brooklyn. Both were permitted to go after being served with a summons to appear tomorrow before United States Commissioner Hitchcock.

Virginians Debate Expense Of Enforcing Prohibition RUSS SEAPORTS

Lewis H. Machen, Alexandria, Praised By Delegate Gilpin, Opponent of State Of fice of Commissioner Peters.

Richmond. Jan. 25.—The "scalp" of State Prohibition Commission is not being sought by those in the State Legislature who oppose continuance of the Prohibition Department, according to Chairman Mayo C. Brown, of Lynchburg, of the House committee on Moral and social welfare. It is this committee which is considering the bill proposing abolishment of the office.

The hearing is being continued and a recommendation is expected to be made by tomorrow night.

Delegate Kenneth N. Gilpin of Clarke county who made abolition of the department an issue in the last tampaign made it clear at the start that the bill was in no sense an attack on Commissioner Peters.

With no desire to attack prohibition, he saw no reason to maintain an expensive department such as no other state in the Uniqu maintains. He felt confident that the Federal agents would be amply able to take care of the situation in cooperation with the State police.

Incidentally, he paid a compliment

Condition of Business Street.

Merchants along M street, between Rock Creek and Aqueduct bridges are complaining bitterly of the condition of that busy thoroughfare. They say the roadway is honey-combed with dangerous depressions and that during the prevalence of the sleet and slush the holes were filled with the mush, creating a menace to public health. REDS CONTROL

Capture of Perekop Brings Possibility of Early Naval Siege.

London, Jan. 3.—Capture of the pa-portant town of Perekop, in the Crimea, 36 miles northwest of Simfero-pol was claimed in a Bolshevik wirepol was claimed in a Bolahevik wire-less communique received here today.

If confirmed the communique would indicate a shift in the Bolshevist offensive against General Denikine's anti-Bolshevik troops to the west. Pos-session of Perekop would give "the Reda" an unbroken line around the northern shore of the sea of Azov and virtual control of the important Rus-sion Black Sea ports.

Soviet dispatches several days ago reported capture of the important city

Soviet dispatches several days ago reported capture of the important city of Novocherkassk, northwest of the head of the Gulf of Taganrog and far to the east of Perekop.

Meantime there was considerable speculation here on possibility of cleshes between the French and British naval forces reported having seen sent to the Black Sea, and the Bolsheviki. So far as known, however, the soviets have no vessels in the Black Sea. Allied military assistance to General Denikine; it was believed, could only take the form of long range shelling of ports held by the "Reds."
